

I am concerned about the environmental impacts of this operation. It is in a susceptible environment that includes Putah Creek. The land and water impacts could very likely be significant, plus there is light pollution and safety concerns. Very good possibility it will fail financially and leave an environmental mess that the county will have to address. Just no.

Diedre Duncan

District 1