To whom it may concern:

This letter is to confirm that LG Sonic is the sole supplier and owner of a patented algae control buoy called the MPC Buoy. The MPC Buoy is a solar powered device that uses ultrasound to control algae in lakes & reservoirs. This system has an algorithm that uses water quality data downloaded from the buoy to make changes to the ultrasonic treatment programs as needed to optimize the treatment. This data is downloaded every 30 minutes. There are no similar products available. The MPC Buoy and its replacement parts are manufactured by LG Sonic.
