EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

(a) Jessica Hamner, Program Coordinator in the Public Health Accreditation Program was selected to participate in the 2017 CDC E-Learning Institute in Atlanta, Georgia. Ms. Hamner was selected from a large pool of worldwide applicants, of which only 12 were chosen. The CDC E-Learning Institute (ELI) is a 4 month online fellowship designed to cultivate skills of public health training professionals with limited experience designing or developing e-learning products. Through partnership with the Public Health Foundations, ELI offers access to CDC-developed materials and subject matter experts, as well as the opportunity to learn from peers.

Travel to the E-Learning Fellowship Final Showcase is fully covered by the Public Health Institute as part of the fellowship program and all associated costs, including airfare, meals, airline baggage fees, ground transportation, hotel and airport parking are covered by the Public Health Foundation. There is no cost to the Department or to the County.

(b) Jessica Hamner, Program Coordinator in the Public Health Accreditation Program has also been invited to attend the Public Health Improvement Training (PHIT) in Albuquerque, New Mexico and will be learning Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships (MAPP).

This training is required as part of our accreditation support initiative and will focus on performance management, quality improvement, change management, national voluntary accreditation and re-accreditation, health assessment and improvement planning, workforce development and partnerships.

The training will be paid for in part by the National Association of County and City Health Officials Scholarship that was awarded to the department for accreditation training in the amount of $1,400. The balance of $110.91 will be paid for by the Departments Accreditation Grant Program.
